Narrative: 10/09/2024 2124 Damore, Michael

Female party came into the station earlier regarding her ex boyfriend using her vehicle without her authority. He claimed he was giving it back to her whenever he felt like it. I called the ex, Eider, and asked if he could bring the car to the police station. He agreed. At 6pm, Eider dropped the car off and gave me the key. He showed me texts from an unsaved number that he said was from a 'Jeff', Marlene's new bf. The texts stated veiled threats to include 'watch' 'im gonna get you' etc as well as reference to Eider's address... Marlene returned hours later to claim her key/vehicle. I asked her about Jeff. She said that she was talking to a Jeff months ago but that it was Eider who initiated the contact and threatened him. She said she no longer dates Jeff nor does she know his last name. Marlene then took her key and had her uncle drive her car home. Marlene advised me that she was granted a restraining order against Eider today in court. I told her that he will most likely be served tonight or tomorrow at home in Winthrop. Without any way of properly identifying 'Jeff', there are no charges to be sought at this time. In the event Eider is able to positively ID him, the criminal process can move forward. Log entry for documentation only at this point.

Mr. barrasso came to HQ to report that his check was stolen, and forged. The check (#3838) was mailed to pay an eye doctor bill for $25, but the forged check (3839) was made out to "John Manuel Santana", an unknown party. Barrasso believes that he may have included a blank check accidentally when he mailed the check to pay the bill. He stated that nobody else had access to his check book at any time. Barrasso checked the account this morning and noticed his balance was incorrect. The check was made out for $7,482.05. Barrasso went to the Revere Citizen's branch on Broadway for help. An investigation was started by the branch (claim # C2970416). No further action is needed at this time.

Calling party called the station again regarding her earlier issue with her daughter. Calling party stated that she called the Winthrop Maine police department (that is where her daughter lives) and they told her that our department could issue a harassment order against her daughter. I advised the calling party that we do not issue the harassment orders and that she will need to contact the East Boston District Court regarding the harassment order.
