

GOOD BUGS AND BAD BUGS

Most bugs are good and bad. God made each and every bug with a purpose. Some bugs are helpful. Some bugs can be hurtful. Some bugs are both helpful and hurtful.

1

Termites are little tiny insects that live in families, work together, and eat wood.

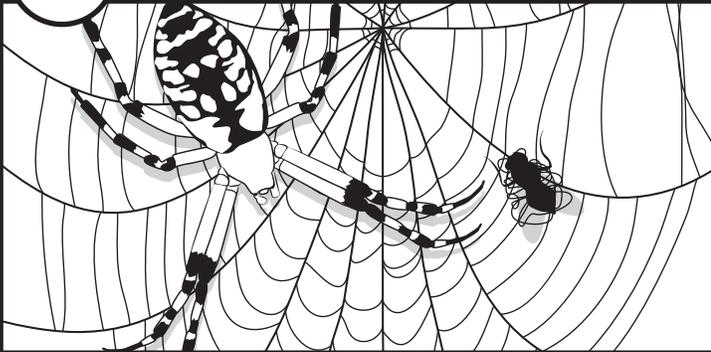

Termites are good because they clear forests of dead trees.

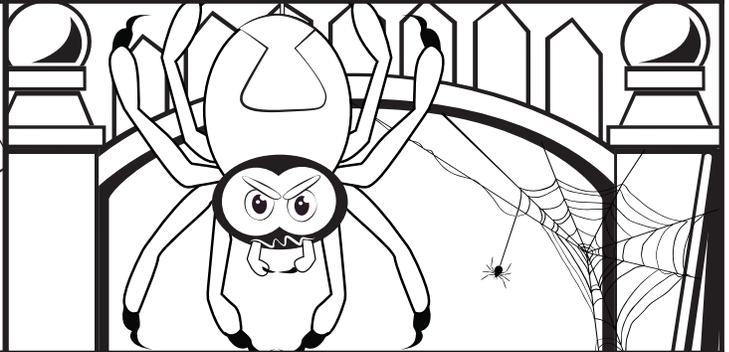

Termite are bad because they can eat the wood in our homes.

2

Most spiders have eight legs and are the good guys. Spiders are shy, try to avoid people, and eat other bad bugs.

Orb Spiders & Zipper Spiders are helpful by eating other bugs around your home.

Brown Recluse Spiders & Black Widow Spiders are bad because they are poisonous.

3

We need bees to help grow our fruits and other food. Bees are yellow and black, fly, and pollenate plants that grow our food.

Bees are very helpful because they move the yellow pollen from one plant to another. Plants need this yellow pollen to grow our food.

God gave bees a stinger to protect them. Bees can be hurtful if they sting us.
